

Weekly News

Week of: February 15, 2010

Memory: “Each of you should look not only to your own interests, but also to the interests of others.”
Philippians 2:4

Reading: This week we will be reviewing all the stories in this unit. There will be a unit test on Friday! Please encourage your child to try and re-read each story in the unit at least once this week on their own. It will help them on their unit test!

Math: We will be working on identifying the missing numbers, setting a dial, determining elapsed time, identifying the missing addend in a some, some more story, subtracting two digit numbers, and writing numbers to 1,000 using words.

English: This week we will be playing catch up and reviewing for the unit test. We have fallen a little behind in language so I will be using this week to catch up on things. Please note that the titles on top of worksheets have story titles, if your children try to say that they don't have to do it because it is not the story of the week, please encourage them to do the work. They keep asking me in class about it, and I just tell them that it is still something we need to learn.*

History: We will be learning about Julius Caesar, Cleopatra, The Death of Julius Caesar, and Augustus Caesar.

Notes and Reminders

- I would like to make cookies with the class on Thursday to help them learn how to follow a recipe. Please let me know if you are able to help supervise this. I could use all kinds of help.
- The list for our class auction basket is posted. If you are able to help purchase things for this, your help would be greatly appreciated.
