

Weekly News

Week of: October 19, 2009

Memory: The Third Commandment: Remember the Sabbath day by keeping it holy. What does this mean? We should fear and love God so that we do not despise preaching and His Word, but hold it sacred and gladly hear and learn it. This will be a fill in the blank test!

Reading: This week we will have a unit test on Friday. The test will cover the stories we have read so far in class. We will be spending the week reviewing and doing activities with them to help the students review. Please make sure your children are reviewing the stories throughout the week.

Math: We will be working on reading and shading a thermometer to the nearest 2 degrees Fahrenheit, addition facts 3 and 4, using guess and check to solve a problem, solve a problem by acting it out, adding multiples of 10 using mental computation, estimating the sum of two two-digit numbers, and estimating measurements using centimeters.

English: We will be reviewing and working on things the class has struggles with. We will be doing many writing activities, verbs, linking verbs, verb phrases, and kind of sentences.

Science: On Wednesday we will start the journey of the human body! We will be starting with the skeletal system.

Notes and Reminders

- A special thank you to Dian Smith who was our mystery reader this week! *There are still opportunities if you would like to participate in his. Please see me if you are interested!

- Book reports are due on Monday, November 2nd! Your child is free to choose any project they want. Remember, projects can only be done once! Please remember to run ideas not on the list by me before you do them!
- I am working on encouraging the class to read chapter books. Please help me and also encourage your child to read chapter books. This will help them with their reading.
